

Good Manufacturing Practices

*Steve Farmer*¹

Abstract: The seminar will cover:

- The practical definition of best practice in the manufacturing environment. How best to identify best practices to the maximum benefit of the business.
- The importance of sharing best practices across and throughout the organization, whether multiplant or within a facility.
- Change management associated with best practice sharing and implementation.
- Using technology to capture, share, and track best practice activity and progress.
- The importance of organizational cultural norms to shift to a mindset of best practice

Keywords: Good manufacturing practices, management

Authors:

Steve Farmer - Steve Farmer is a 35 year veteran of the Paper Industry with a wide range of responsibilities in manufacturing, customer service, and logistics. Steve is currently a Partner with Genesis Performance Partners, LLC, a management consulting specializing in Leadership Development, Labor/Employee Relations, Manufacturing Optimization, and Sales & Operations Planning.

¹ Genesis Performance Partners, LLC, Memphis, TN, sfarmer58@gmail.com